"Life's a pretty precious and wonderful thing. You can't sit down and let it lap around you...you have to plunge into it; you have to dive through it! And you can't save it, you can't store it up; you can't horde it in a vault. You've got to taste it; you've got to use it, the more you use, the more you have...that's the miracle of it!"

Kyle Samuel Crichton

Just The Beginning

As we start the school year at Washington College, whether as a freshman or returning as an upper classman, there is the sense that we are about to embark on new undertakings. We are able to explore new studies, make new friends and further advance ourselves. The community of WC allows its students to grow and develop together, leaving us prepared to face life's endless possibilities. And when we look at our years at college, we realize it's just the beginning.

Student Life

*We have tomorrow
Bright before us
Like a flame.
Yesterday, a night-gone thing,
A sundown name.
And dawn today,
Broad arch above the road we came,
We march.*

Grim, grinning ghosts come out to socialize....

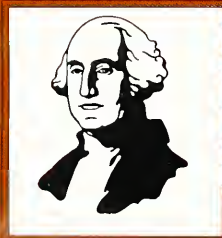

.....

Again this year students were entertained in WAC's recently remodeled Student Center. The Winebottles returned, playing songs from their new CD, "Ride My Pony," members of the Pat McGee band played the Coffeehouse and Fighting Gravity's appearance at WC made the pages of Rolling Stone. The campus was also visited and rocked by Soul Defender Posse, Commonbond, and Watershed. A swinging time was had by all.

Inauguration Weekend 1995

Washington College Celebrates the Installation of a New President

Friday, September 15th marked the start of a lively and enjoyable Inauguration weekend at WC. The Board of Visitors and Governors met to determine the goals of the upcoming year while students pursued other objectives.

The student oriented activities began Friday evening with the student picnic on the Kent Quad, followed by an SGA-sponsored quad party featuring student bands.

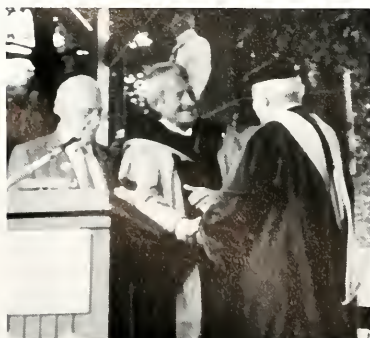

Saturday, the students prepared their booths for the Club Fair on the Cater Walk. Psychology Club's optical illusions and Cleopatra's Daughters' double-dutch drew a crowd but the display judged most outstanding was Spanish Club, who offered traditional Spanish food and music.

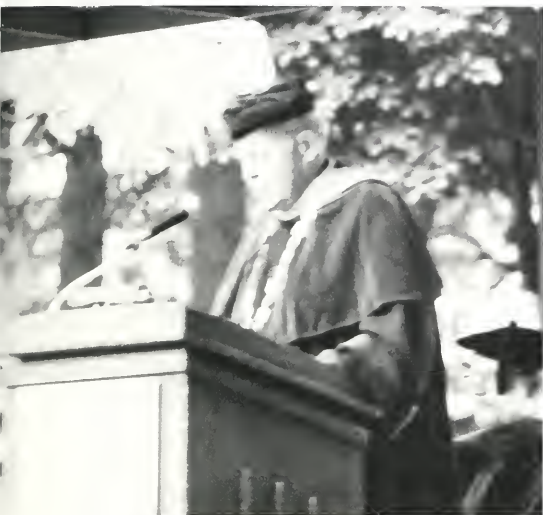

The installation ceremony of the 25th President of Washington College, Dr. John Sampson Toll, began at 3:00 pm on the campus lawn. A graduate from Yale, Toll was the President of the University of Maryland and the University of Maryland System's first chancellor. Dr. Toll was a professor of physics and the first president of the University of New York at Stony Brook. As the chair of the physics and astronomy department, he taught at the University of Maryland for most of his career.

The convocation followed the inauguration. Awards were presented to Christina Turner, S. Russell Seidel, and Theresa Senn for the highest GPA in the freshman, sophomore and junior classes. The Visitors and Governors Scholarship Awards were given to the rising senior and junior with the highest cumulative grade point averages, Tod Hall and S. Russell Seidel. The 1994-95 Middendorf Scholars were Elizabeth Likens and Scott Steinmuller, recognized for their academic excellence and exemplary leadership throughout their college years. Theta Chi and Alpha Chi Omega were given the Interfraternity-Sorority Loving Cups for the fraternity and sorority with the highest GPA.

The night culminated in a spectacular and dazzling fireworks display, that enchanted everyone despite the rain. The Starlight dance was held in the Student Center due to the rain but was well attended. The night ended a celebration that was worthy of a new president and of the future of Washington College.

Earth Day 4.20.96

Above, Jack-o-Pierce charms the crowd with an electric-acoustic set. To the right, Jimmie tells us what he thinks of politicians. Below, the turnout at Wilmer Park was impressive. To the lower right, the crowd gets into the groove.

Earth Day this year was a rocking event boasting an eclectic set of bands: Toy Factory, Who-Hash, Fighting Gravity, GSO, Soul Defender Posse, Strangefolk, Jimmie's Chicken Shack and Jack-o-Pierce. The weather was perfect for the event which began at noon and lasted (with some interruption) until the cops busted up the place, much to everyone's vehement objections. Overall it was a very digable affair to celebrate our planet.

What do you mean,

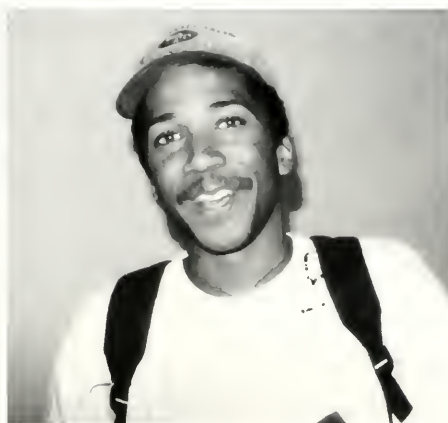

There's Nothing to Do?

It is better to be happy for a moment and burned up with beauty than to live a long time and be bored all the while.

Mom & Dad—Thanks for your unconditional, support and encouragement—you are my inspiration.

Looking back, on the memory of the dance we shared, beneath the stars above, for a moment, all the world was right, how could I have known, that you'd ever say goodbye, and I, I'm glad I didn't know, the way it all would end, the way it all would go, our lives, are better left to chance, I could have missed the pain, but I'd of have had to miss the dance.

A FLASH of FOUR to Thank.

The four will happen in a flash I heard...It began with that first ride through Centreville... The fun basketball trips with the girls, a Charter team in the making, it all seemed so simple then. Walking around with two calendar schedules to keep track of all the DAHE, SGA, CLEO, RA, meetings I must attend and don't forget the papers due.. Not knowing then that it'll pay off. All that Jazz...a few students brainstorm..Now an annual event. Student Affairs, "Can I work here, Diane?"—began a career of leadership, traineeship and friendship..Thanks Di, Dennis, Dean Mentor. I can't handle this, Yes you can—words of encouragement always—Di you're one special lady!! She stopped by for a short visit, a little lady with a big heart who taught me more than just African-American Literature, but about myself. Thanks Beth! To my sisas and brothers in the struggle stay strong! "Something's stuck in my esophagus.." sista I hear you. It isn't the end it's the begining, I crawled, now it's time for me to fly. Thank you Lord for recognizing my footprints in the sand and my need to be carried. To my Loving Coach, it started here..it remains true, thanks for your support, Love ya much. Never last, but always to the loving supporting wind of my life, blowing me in my face when I couldn't see, whistling in my ear when I needed those words of encouragement and pushing me from behind when I needed that boost..Greatest thanks to my family & forever friends. —Maya I hear you: "When you learn, teach. When you get, give." And it all happened in a flash of four. I'm on my way!!

The fear I overcame in order to ride this camel is the same fear I had to overcome in my four years here at W.C...I was attracted to the challenge but afraid of going through the process. I looked for every possible way out and then I made an attempt. I have found in my many attempts that the only way to enjoy life is to experience life, and the only way to experience life is to take risks. Whether the experience is good or bad, it is the experience that helps one grow.

The following is a piece written by Krissie Callahan especially for her old and new friends, but we feel it expresses our theme,
Just the Beginning, appropriately as well:

Remember the first day of the first year of the first time in your life you started your journey to getting old, Remember the roommates, the fears, the tears, the nerves, setting up the room, taking it apart and then rearranging it all over again, Remember the first guy who caught your eye, that same guy who you will still remember as your first college crush, Remember attempting to keep in touch with high school friends, and succeeding until you realized what a phone bill REALLY meant, Remember promising to never change, but then realizing that's an impossible promise to keep when high school has passed and you've moved on,
Remember those first friends you shared your fears with, who soon became acquaintances,
Remember those neighbors and classmates, who ended up becoming your closest friends,
Remember holding back the tears on those days when you just wanted to be home again, to feel safe again, Remember those days you felt you couldn't relate to ANYONE, you felt you had no place, and just calling home would make it worse,

Remember those drunken nights when the times you shared with your friends will forever hold a place in your memory and your heart, Remember those bonding nights, when you never felt closer to a certain person, and how that closeness creates ties that never die, Remember how you never realized the importance of family, until you didn't see them everyday,
Remember telling friends the deepest secrets of your life, and knowing they'd remain secrets, Remember the craziness of the dorm, getting sudden bursts of energy and looking for people, even total strangers, to harass, Remember pulling all nighters, and never thinking they were as bad as they sounded until you actually lived through one, Remember those nights you were so drunk you held conversations with strangers and seeing them the next day and remembering, Remember how those strangers soon became familiar faces and someone to chat with,
Remember hangovers, and promising yourself you were never going to do this to yourself again,
Remember how quickly that promise was broken,
Remember when your closet stretched throughout the whole floor and you never had to worry about a lack of clothes anymore, Remember how over breaks you had the chance to step back and really see the friends you made and the memories shared, and you were satisfied, Remember thinking HOW MUCH your life has changed in just months, Remember that dream guy, you thought about so much, who when he finally opened his mouth, changed your opinion of him forever, Remember how that guy you once lived for soon became a joke and and excuse for you and your friends to laugh at yourself,
Remember the times, never forget them, even the little ones can hold the greatest meaning, Remember to never lose touch with those friends you've made here at college, because you have all changed and grown enormously together, and that is something very sacred to be shared, Remember you are only here for a short while, the time flies before you realize it, so make it last, make it memorable, make it the best time of your life, and make the best memories that you can carry with you for the rest of your days, Remember this doesn't last forever so never let a day go by without living it to the fullest,
Remember to never let a day go by without a laugh,
Remember to love the ones you love, life isn't forever,
Remember the laughs, let them echo in the back of your mind,
Remember to love your friends, whether they come, go, love you or hurt
you, NEVER let anyone go,

And always remember, when you leave here in four years you are leaving with much more than you walked in here with.

Sports

*As I understand it, sport is hard work for which you do not get paid.
Irvin S. Cobb*

The men's varsity soccer team roared into action this fall and didn't let up until they had proven themselves one of the best teams on the Mid-Atlantic coast, and certainly the best in recent Sho'men history. They boasted twelve wins this season, tying the record for the highest number of total victories in a season set by the 1979 varsity men's squad. Adding to the sweet success of the season was the team's rank at number seven in the Mid-Atlantic Region Rankings.

Two key victories for the Sho'men were against conference rivals Dickinson and Franklin and Marshall. Previously both teams were tough matches for the Sho'men, but this year both rivals were blanked 1-0 by our squad. This year was the first time WC has defeated F&M since 1961. Another decisive victory for the team was against Swathmore, a team they had not beaten in 11 years. Andrew King and sophomore Chris Daily each scored to give the Sho'men a 2-0 win.

Coaches and players both cited all five conference wins as crucial to their success.

The Sho'men offense, led by junior co-captain King, led the way. The skill and prowess that the Sho'men had in their scoring efforts this season showed a marked improvement over previous years. Shane Baytes was a strong and consistent player at midfield, while sophomore Kevin Myers played a dual role on the front line and midfield, aiding the team greatly in their offensive strikes. Filling out the front line as a starter was freshman Chuck Mullen, who Coach Todd Helbing referred to as "dan-opponents. Joining Helm and Heibler on defense was freshman Jon Ferro who gave an outstanding rookie performance, complimenting the senior duo well.

Defending the Sho'men goal was a shared effort during the season. Freshman Travis Beauchamp gave an unparalleled performance for a goalkeeper with no college experience. He was a key player in the team's string of shutouts. In regular conference play, Beauchamp gave up only 7 goals. Also receiving time in goal were junior Mike Gill and senior Chris Downs. Both performed with strong consistency, adding yet another element to the Sho'men success squad.

Three players were named to Centennial All-Conference Teams. Helm was named to First Team, while King was named to Second Team. Beauchamp also received an Honorable Mention.

"Having six seniors

gerous, and a great scoring threat."

Adding to the team's incredible playing this season was the defense, anchored by senior co-captain Chip Helm and senior Tom Heibler. Coach Helbing cited Helm as "consistent and steady in the back." Both four-year veterans, their experience in the back field was obvious as they continually turned away was instrumental to our success," said Helm. He cited this as perhaps the largest reason for the success of the team. Coach Helbling also confirmed this sentiment, saying that "our seniors, Brian Rush, Geoff Bley and Tommy Heibler were excellent and provided us with experience and leadership on the field."

Overall, the feeling about the season was more than positive. Both players and coaches were excited by the victories. "My overall assessment of the season is one of being proud of our total team effort. There were times when things could have gone the wrong direction, but the team stayed positive and believed in what they could accomplish," said Helbling. Although the loss of six seniors who saw their program build over four years will be tough for the team, WC can look for an even better Sho'men soccer team next year.

Field Hockey Perserveres in Tough Season

This year's Sho'women field hockey team possessed a great multitude of hardworking women. With twelve returning players and a group of very talented freshmen, the Sho'women had a very aggressive season even though the team finished 6-11.

Their record doesn't reflect all the hard work that was put into this season. Junior, Nicole Chmura, stated, "This year was an improvement compared to last year's team because we played more aggressively and with more conviction."

This was a very important year for the field hockey team for two reasons. One was that they dedicated a new field after Eleanor Shiver at their last game against Western Maryland. Also, they recieved a new assistant coach, La Briggs. Her main objective was reinforcing the goalie position.

The Sho'women field hockey team consisted of many talented players. One player who was heavily depended upon was senior co-captain, Jen Haniffee. Due to her explosive defensive skills, Jen was always there helping her team. Sarah Sobon and Jill Schultz were leading scorers, on the offensive side. Another player that stood out this season was freshman, Mandy Pare.

Her teammates described her as being all over the field, she was always there for back up.

The 1995 Sho'women field hockey team are looking forward to next season with a large number of returning players. They are confident that they are going to be a major contender in the Centennial Conference.

by Jen Vancura

The Washington College volleyball team experienced the often cliched "rebuilding season" in 1995. The Sho'women finished up the '95 campaign with a 7-30 overall record in Centennial Conference action. With no seniors and only one returning starter, the team knew from the onset that it was going to be a tough hill to climb. However, a rash of injuries in the middle of the season hindered the team's growth and success. Veteran head coach Penny Fall commented on the season saying, "This young group didn't lack for potential in terms of talent, but they got their collective heart broken so many times in close games during the first month of the season that their willingness to put 'it all on the line' was diminished. Consequently, without any seniors on the squad, the coaching staff chose to focus on refining skills and putting a new defense in anticipation of the '96 season." The team started off on the right foot, winning three of its first five matches. Then the team hit a snag and fell into a two-for-26 slump. The Sho'women never gave up though, and finished by winning two of their last six matches.

The Sho'women had several steady performers. Juniors Tina Smith (Taneytown, MD/Francis Scott Key) and Cat Barrett (Gettysburg, PA/Gettysburg) paced Washington. Smith was the team's most versatile player, leading the Sho'women in set assists and service aces. Smith registered 3.1 set assists per game and 60 aces, while also finishing third on the team with 1.2 kills per game. Barrett averaged 1.3 kills a game and 2.0 digs at outside hitter. In addition, junior Kari Lee (Bel Air, MD/John Carroll) provided defense on the back line. Lee was third on the team with 126 digs.

The sophomore class featured multi-talented Jade Shockley (Snow Hill, MD/Snow Hill) and middle blocker Emily Kessler (Mt. Airy, MD/Glenelg). Shockley was a threat to pass or spike. Starting out the season at outside hitter, she was fifth on the team with 74 kills. After moving to setter midway through the season due to injuries, she did a more than admirable job as the playmaker. Shockley finished with 1.4 sets assists per game and led the team with 2.2 digs per game. Kessler led the team in both blocks and hitting percentage of .267. Sophomore Laura Hobbs (Adamstown, MD/Prospect Hall) tallied 51 kills, 31 service aces, and 20 blocks from her outside hitter position. The top hitter on the team turned out to be freshman Cassandra Jones (Snow Hill, MD/Snow Hill). Jones battled injuries late in the year but still managed to lead the squad with 2.0 kills per game. Coming off the bench for the Sho'women were freshmen Takako Saito (Niigata, Japan/Linden Hall, PA), Liz Hoogenboom (New York, NY/Oldfields), and Heather Pyzik (Bel Air, MD/John Carroll). "Statistically, Tina Smith stood out in the assist and service aces categories, while Emily Kessler compiled good numbers in hitting percentage and blocking," remarked Fall. "Our major problems as a team were in the hitting percentage and digging stats. We never became consistent in those areas. In fact, lack of consistency was our constant problem all season. Hopefully, the learning experience can now be translated into a winning one next year."

Volleyball's Troubled Season Ends with Two Wins

Tough Season For Men's Basketball

Injuries and Tough Schedule were Challenging

The 1995-96 men's basketball season was one that was challenging and difficult in many ways. They finished with an overall record of 9-15, and 4-9 in the Centennial Conference. A mixture of injuries and a difficult schedule tested the team; the Shoreman had to face two Division I teams, as well as two of the top ten Division III opponents.

Several players shined throughout the season. Senior Adam Poe averaged 14.2 points per game, and finished his college career with a career high 34 points in their last game against Western Maryland; he was also named to the Centennial Conference Honor Roll. Junior Derek Cuff had an outstanding season stepping up when Junior Ben Harris was lost to a pre-season injury; Cuff lead the team both in minutes played and in scoring (14.7 ppg), and was also second in rebounds (5 rpg). He is on track to reach the 1,000 point mark next season. Junior Mark Awangtang also had an amazing season against his taller opponents in 35 in Conference play.

Other players made significant contributions to the team. Sophomore Bradd Burkhart's hustle and enthusiasm is evident

Moretti were also valuable assets to the team.

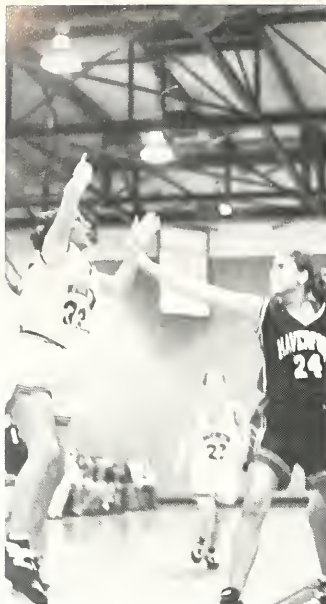

While the final overall record may seem disappointing, the character and spirit of the men's basketball team shone through with their ability to pull together in spite of injuries and other downfalls. With the Shoreman winning their last three games this season, the team is expecting to continue along the winning track with an experienced and dedicated team for the 1996-97 season.

by Laura Meerholz

the form of blocks and rebounds. Awangtang broke blocking records at WC and within the Centennial Conference; his season total was 77 blocks, with in his 10.2 ppg average, as well as in his rebounding and steals. Freshman Corey Davis led the team in assists (2.2 apg), while Patrick Flaherty and T.J.

Women's Basketball Continues Winning Tradition

Success Continues in their Third Season

The 1995-96 women's basketball team had another outstanding season with an overall 15-8 record, and a 9-6 record in the Centennial Conference. Several players stood out this season, both veterans and newcomers. There were a few pivotal games towards the end of the season that determined the fate of the Sho'women; their last loss to Ursinus kept them out of the Centennial Conference Playoffs. But their dedication and hard work was evident throughout the entire season.

Junior co-captains Eboni Taylor and Allison Wentworth took care of the boards both on defense and offense. Taylor averaged 10.6 rebounds per game and Wentworth averaging 9.2 rpg; both players were also the top scorers with Taylor having 14.6 points per game and Wentworth with 12.4 ppg. Lee Ann Lezzer, also a junior co-captain, contributed to the team's success with her hustle, enthusiasm, versatility and her 3-pointers; Lezzer's best offensive game came when she scored 23 points against Galludet, while her season average was 8.9 ppg.

Sophomore Megan Miller also had fantastic season averaging 9.7 point per game. Freshman Diane Zeng shined this year by filling in as point guard for the season, taking some of the pressure off the other players; she also contributed off the floor, averaging 6.9 points per game. Other pivotal players for the season were Karen Sieger, Hilary Rainey, Mandy Paré, and Kristen Snell.

Perhaps the highlight of the season was when Eboni Taylor and Allison Wentworth were the first two women's basketball players to reach the 1,000 point mark.

Coach Lane Cole feels that "with all players returning, next year looks even brighter." The experience and talent of this year's team will definitely make next year's women's basketball season very exciting.

Another Great Season for

Men's Swimming

Trip to Conference Championships Tops Off an Outstanding Season

Men's swimming continued the winning tradition with a final record of 6-2; their only two losses were to Gettysburg and Swarthmore. There were many veterans who contributed to the swim team's success this year, and many of the newcomers played their part in this fantastic season.

Although the regular season was very successful, the Sho'men especially shined at Conference Championships this year; there were 13 records set in total.

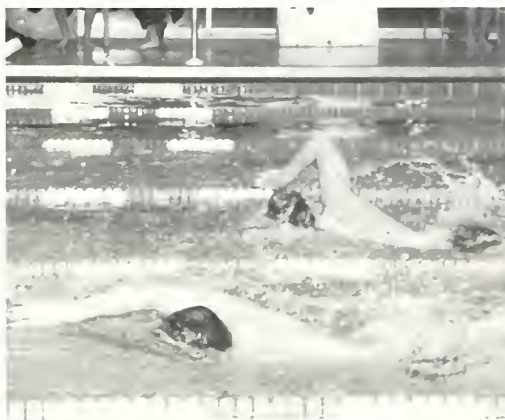

Several seniors had remarkable performances. Peter Ward won a bronze medal in the 100 backstroke and three medals in the relays, while Julien Gaudion won both consolation finals and recorded the second fastest WC all-time swim in the 100 & 200 breaststroke. Co-captain Scott Steinmuller placed in two events for all four years here at WC, and co-captain Dave Kraft placed for three events and is on the WC All-Time Top 5 List for the 100 & 200 backstroke events.

Two newcomers also had outstanding performances. Freshman Greg McLaughlin contributed to WC's success by setting four records. Freshman Angel Prado became the WC male to qualify for the National Championships by setting three Conference records and winning the high point trophy at the Centennial Conference Championships.

While the Sho'men are losing several seniors, they have a lot of talent and energy ready to meet next year's challenges and have another great season!

Women's Swimming Has

Another Fantastic Season

Success Continues in the Winter of 1995

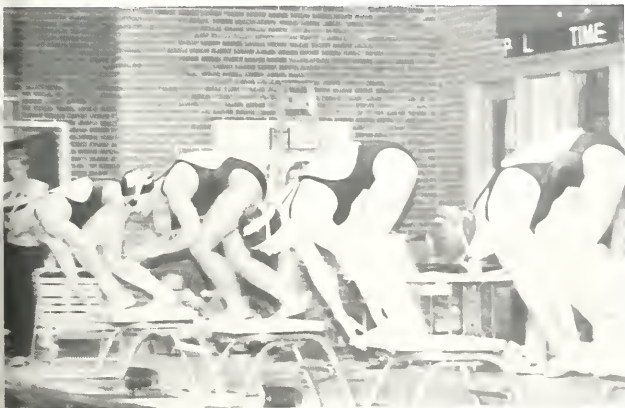

This year's women's swim team was made up of many veterans and some newcomers, and their success in the water was outstanding. Their overall record was 8-2, with their only two losses going to Swarthmore and Gettysburg.

200 fly and 1650 freestyle events, and is in the Top-Five All Time Swimmers in both fly events. Denise Hakansan, the other co-captain, had an incredible senior year, with tremendous drops in time; this year, she placed in the 200 & 400 and relay records as well.

The Sho'women will be losing several seniors to graduation, but have a young and promising team returning next year that brings experience and energy to ensure that their success will continue in the winter of 1996.

by Laura Meerholtz

The success from the regular season carried over when the women headed to the Conference Championships.

Two seniors had especially terrific championships. Co-captain Jen Dow placed in the 100 and 1650 freestyle events.

Other underclassmen had success at the Championships. Danielle Sullivan set three records, and Meredith Bathgate set two. Sullivan and Bathgate, along with Kirsta Northup, Barb Murphy and Kristin Hitzeman, added two

Men's Lax Reaches Championship Finals

The 1996 Shoremen Lacrosse team was a young group, with seventeen freshmen, 11 sophomores and only seven seniors but grew to become a force to be reckoned with. Goalkeepers Andy Taibl and senior Jon Lundburg proved to be a strong base for the team, both with outstanding save percentages. Taibl has also become one of the top goalies in the country this season. In WC's second game against Salisbury, he recorded a career-high 20 saves to break the Sea Gull's 47-game winning streak. Shoremen defense was also rough and ready, its key players being senior Kevin Harms and sophomore Chris McGlone. Both men were second-team honorees on the 1996 All-Centennial Conference team. As a junior co-captain, midfielder George Atterbury was the only Shoreman to place on the All-Centennial team's first unit. Senior co-captain T.D. Albright and senior Andrew Neville also showed themselves to be valuable players. In the attack positions, senior Bart Jaeger and freshman John Fuller earned places on the Centennial second team. With the skill of sophomore Michael Wilson, the trio makes an incredible scoring force, with a combined total of 96 goals in the regular season.

The Shoremen finished the season with a 13-4 overall record and 6-0 in the Centennial Conference. The team's hard work paid off this year, taking them for the first time since 1990 to NCAA Division III Finals. This is the 14th time Washington College has appeared in the Finals and our 19th entry into the NCAA Tournament. This record allows WC to boast that we have participated in more tournaments and won more NCAA games than any other other current Division III team.

On Sunday May 26, the Shoremen met the Nazareth Golden Flyers at the University of Maryland for the 1996 National Collegiate Division III Men's Lacrosse Championship game. The day was dismal and wet but the Shoremen played well. George Atterbury scored 3 goals, Bart Jaeger added 3 more, Jamie Pollock picked up a goal, and Michael Wilson also scored. The Shoremen held off the Golden Flyers to tie 10-10 and take the game into overtime. Despite the support of Washington fans, Nazareth was able to score in the first 14 seconds of overtime to win the game 11-10. It was an unfortunate loss for WC but with a young team, the Shoremen can only improve in the next season.

Women's Lacrosse Ends Tough Season With a Win!

With many new additions to the team this year's Shorewomen kept their hopes high in spite of a dismal beginning to the season.

The team benefitted from the addition of La Biggs, the new graduate assistant coach, as well as a strong freshman representation.

Senior Megan Mc Curdy returned as attack for the 1996 season after being sidelined most of last season with an injury. Co-captain Jill Schultz set a Washington College record for ground balls and interceptions in a career at defense. Peggy Busker returned as starting goalkeeper for her fourth year in a row.

The team's hard work was rewarded with an end of the season against Bryn Mawr, 8-7.

Crew Team Takes Trophy at Home

The crew team had a successful season that included wins over Johns Hopkins, St. John's and Loyola. They took second a number of times, beating out other talented teams. At the LaSalle Regatta, Laurel Harris won the women's varsity single over Johns Hopkins with a time of 7:39.

At the Caspersen Cup, the men's novice eight boat of Ben Bradford, Andreas Klimson, Jason Myers, Eric Hegg, Craig Gamble, Quentin Bailey, Drew Fitzpatrick, Greg McLaughlin and coxswain Lyndi Townsend lost to Johns Hopkins but left St. John's behind to a distant third. The women's novice eight of Anne Klug, Meghan Brumby, Alyssa Wiedenmayer, Natalie Brecht, Jennifer Simpson, Jaqui Flisher, Sara Allison, Julie Parks and coxswain Catherine Watts defeated St. John's to take first. During the women's open weight eight race, Stacey Hammon, Tara McKee, Beverly Diaz, Liza Dickson, Laurel Harris, Heather Beauchamp, Robin Mitchell, Hilary Rainey and coxswain Christina Chiarchiaro were a victorious group over Hopkins and St. John's.

The men's varsity eight boat also fought to win over Hopkins. That boat consisted of Regis de Ramel, Jeff Lee, Kevin Quinn, Tyle Benedum, Eric Hegg, Chris Pelz, Andreas Klimsa, Ben Bradford and coxswain Pez Walters. The team came away with the Caspersen Cup trophy.

WAC hosted the Washington College Invitational for Loyola, St. John's, UMBC, Johns Hopkins and John Stockton College. The women's varsity single was won by WC's Laurel Harris with our Sarah Bell taking third. The women's varsity open weight four consisting of Stacey Hammond, Liza Dickson, Tara McKee, Beverly Diaz and coxswain Chris Chiarchiaro took first place by a fifteen second margin over Loyola. The varsity women's lightweight four of Amy Peterson, Jen Sands, Taber Overall, Alisa Johnson and Chiarchiaro also clinched a victory over Loyola with a time of 7:54.11 to 8:14.11. Hammond, McKee, Dickson, Diaz, Harris, Peterson, Beauchamp, Mitchell and Chiarchiaro beat Loyola in the women's varsity eight race. The women's novice eight

WC Women's Team Clinches Titles

The Shorewomen tennis team of Melissa Ellwanger, Anabel Flores, Erin Haskell, Anne-Marie Malena, Kim Prettyman, Amy Rizzitello, Victoria Roth and Paulina Sierra began their season losing their first match to Washington & Lee but they showed their true colors in their second match, defeating Roanoke 8 matches to 1. They continued on their winning path as they won every singles and doubles match against Randolph Macon. The team went on to win against Dickinson and Johns Hopkins. In a close match, they suffered defeat against Franklin & Marshall and Haverford. They finished with a record of 8-8 overall and 5-2 in the Conference. In the 1996 Centennial Conference Championship, Paulina Sierra met the 1994 division champion and top seed Zeena Abdi of Johns Hopkins, and defeated her to claim the championship title for Washington College. In the doubles tournament, Anabel Flores and Kim Prettyman defeated Gettysburg's Erin Quay and Wendy Joe with a score of 4-6, 6-4, 6-4 to win the championship.

Sophomore Paulina Sierra was awarded Centennial Player of the Year and went on to NCAA National Semi-finals. She drew No. 1 seed Nao Kinoshita of Rhodes and was defeated. The team looks forward to a promising season next year.

Undefeated Men's Team Wins Both Conference Tournaments

The Shoremen tennis team began their season with an outstanding start. In the first match against Tennessee Tech, singles players Robin Sander, Damian Polla, Miro Beran and Michael Kember won each of their matches. In the doubles match, Andrew King and Carl Nordberg lost in a close match, 6-8. WC defeated Tennessee Tech four matches to one. Against Division I University of Memphis, singles player Mike Kember, Carl Nordberg and Tomas LeJarraga lost their matches but Andrew King defeated his opponent 6-3, 6-1. The team ended their Centennial Conference season undefeated with a win against Johns Hopkins. In the Centennial Conference Championship, hosted by Washington College, Kember defeated his Western Maryland opponent 6-0, 6-1. Andrew Moffat defeated Gettysburg's Ben Andreozzi 6-4, 6-3. Kember and Moffat went on to reach the quarterfinals where Moffat was defeated. Kember conquered his opponent Brandon Cutter of Gettysburg in the semifinals, 6-1, 6-2. Kember went on to win the Centennial Conference Singles Championship by defeating Sherif Abdel-Misih of Franklin & Marshall, 6-1, 6-0. In the doubles tournament, Miro Beran and Andrew King beat their opponents from Dickinson, 6-2, 6-4, then went on to vanquish Johns Hopkins and take the doubles championship.

Senior Michael Kember was named Centennial Player of the Year and was 8-0 in the conference.

Shoremen Make Outstanding Showing in 1996

The baseball team had strong season, ending with an overall record of 19-11 and a conference record of 10-8. Senior Chad Campbell had a good regular season, with seven runs batted in. Tim Pilarski, a junior, made an admirable showing with 18 RBIs. Sophomores Sean Tyszko and Matt Flanagan also held their own. Freshmen Chad Weiner and Travis Beauchamp also made solid showings. The stars of team were "The Duo" of senior Brian Rush and junior Scott Quinn. Quinn was selected for the All-Centennial Conference team in two positions. He was named to the first team as third baseman where he led the conference in home runs (6), runs batted in (21) and turned out a batting average of .387. He was named to the second team as pitcher with a 2.36 earned run average. He tied for top honors with Franklin & Marshall's Tim Sheridan (the conference's pitcher of the year) in complete games (6), placed third in strikeouts (37) and led all Centennial pitchers in innings pitched-53.1.

Brian Rush made an impressive showing at the conference as well. He was named to the second team as a leader in hitting with a .389 avg. as well as in stolen bases (12). He also tied Tim Sheridan for conference leader in strikeouts-42.

The team will feel the loss of Rush, but the young team promises to make for an exciting season in '97.

Unpredictable Season Breaks School Record for Victories

The Shorewomen softball team began their season losing two games to Western Maryland, then to Ursinus and Dickinson. In their first game against Wesley the team was victorious 8-5, then went on in the second game to annihilate them 21-0. This win began to show the team's ability. The women went on to repeat their performance over Haverford, beating them 21-0 in the first game and 11-3 in the second. They split a double-header with Franklin & Marshall, losing the first game 3-4, then winning the second 11-6. They ended their season with a conference record of 6-10 and an overall record of 15-16. The team broke the school record for wins this season and finished tying for fourth in the conference.

Senior co-captain Denise Hakanson finished her college career with a batting average of .432. Co-captain Melissa Kordula ranked second in the conference standing with a

.490 average. Cherie Gallini was also made a co-captain and earned a place on the conference honor roll for her performance in the last game against Salisbury. She was 4 for 8 at the plate, with one run scored and she committed no errors in eight chances. Freshman Kassie Jones started as catcher and ranked seventh in the conference with a .409 average. Coach Lane Cole commented on the season saying, "For the third consecutive year the team broke the school record for wins in a season and we look forward to finishing even stronger next year." The Shorewomen placed four players on the All-Centennial list this year. Melissa Kordula and Denise Hakanson made the second team. Pitcher Emily Kessler and third basewoman Shannon Rump both received honorable mention. This is the fourth time senior Denise Hakanson has made the centennial list. Losing only one senior (though an outstanding one), the young team can only improve and we look forward to a great season in 1997

Pegasus

Washington College's first yearbook appeared in 1895—and now 101 years later, trying to finish this deadline during the last week of school, we're wondering how it continues to appear; trying to keep up with deadlines, sports, events, and our papers and exams takes its toll on the most organized of staffs (and that's not us!), but seeing the finished book makes the whole hectic process worth it. And doing the yearbook has its benefits (wait a second, we're thinking...): You have to let us in, we're covering this for the yearbook! Not to mention the satisfaction we get from serving our WAC readers.

Our all-chick staff this year was very small and so that much more integral. Thanks to everyone who put in some effort in making this book come together—we couldn't have done it without you! To our photographers—Stacey, Andrea, Jessica, Leti—you ladies' hard work has made the 1996 book a great representation of everyone's year. Nice work! Laura, Kristen, Janet, you're terrific, thanks for all your time and effort. We also must thank Kurt Sommer for helping us get pictures we missed (oops!) and agreeing to get graduation for us; you're a doll, Kurt. Much thanks to our advisor, Meredith Davies Hadaway, and to our Jostens representative, Rich Shrenker, for their guidance, for patiently answering our dumb questions and for encouraging us during our first year as editors. Thanks also to the staff of the 1931 Pegasus for inspiring us with their awesome (and mirthful!) book.

We appreciate the members of the Board of Publications, who helped us organize, made those meetings actually kind of fun, and renewed us for next year (heh, heh). Thanks also go to Michele Messick, Diane Larrimore and Marcia Landskroener for all their help in keeping our finances straight and getting us much needed info and photos. You saved us!

Finally, thanks (we think!) to Krissie and Mary for passing the office down to us neophytes; we are indebted to them for teaching us everything we know. You knew what we were in for when we started and were always there to help us out when we were at a loss. We hope we've made you proud!

And anyone else who've helped us in any way, thank you! Now, on to '97!

On October 8th over 150 Greeks converged on the campus lawn to kick off the annual Greek Games. Competitors took part in relays, piggy-back and wheelbarrow runs, the orange and lifesaver passes, the chariot race, 3-legged sack race, jello-eating contest and tug o'war.

The winners of the volleyball tournament were the Zeta-Phi Delt team. The Alpha Chi's and Thetas triumphed in the tug o'war, while Phi Delta Theta and Alpha Omicron Pi prevailed in the banner contest. Becky Strauss was crowned Greek Goddess and Brian Tipton was named Greek God. The afternoon of friendly and enthusiastic competition ended with Alpha Chi securing their status for the third year in a row and Theta Chi reclaiming the honor for another year.

Douglass Cater

1923-1995

We wish to dedicate the 1996 Pegasus to the memory of S. Douglass Cater. He was a journalist, author and college president who once served as special assistant to President Lyndon Johnson. He served as president of Washington College from 1982-1990.

During his tenure at Washington College, Mr. Cater raised more than $43 million to revitalize the nation's tenth oldest liberal arts college with academic initiatives and major new facilities, including the Cater Walk. He also became a national spokesperson for independent liberal arts colleges, taking on then-Education Secretary William Bennett, who had accused private colleges of greed, in the op-ed pages of The New York Times and the Washington Post.

"We will remember Douglass Cater as the ardent champion of an 'endangered species,' the small liberal arts college," current President John S. Toll remarked in announcing Mr. Cater's death to the College community. "His portrait rightly holds a key place in Washington College's Casey Academic Center, where it will continue to inspire us to strive for excellence in intellectual endeavor and service to humanity."

Prior to accepting the presidency at Washington College, Mr. Cater had a long and distinguished career as an editor, policy adviser, author and political analyst. He served as Washington Editor and later National Editor of The Reporter Magazine from 1950 until 1964 when Lyndon Johnson asked him to join the White House staff. As President Johnson's special assistant, Mr. Cater worked on initiatives leading to the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, the Higher Education Act, the Public Broadcasting Corporation, the International Education Act, and the Teacher Corps.

In 1970, Mr. Cater began a long association with the Aspen Institute for Humanistic Studies. As a Founding Fellow, Senior Fellow, member of the Program Council and Trustee of the Institute, Mr. Cater initiated their Program on Communications and served as a principal planner in designing the Institute's Center for Governance at Wye Plantation. In the late 1970s and early '80s, Mr. Cater spent three years as vice chairman of the Observer, England's oldest weekly newspaper.

Mr. Cater was a eminent figure at Washington College and he will be sorely missed.

On Thursday, April 18, General Colin Powell paid a visit to the WC campus to address students, faculty and alumni. He discussed his recent book, "My American Journey," his career in the Army and his experiences as a young man. His speech was both amusing, delightful and inspiring. It was an event much appreciated and enjoyed by its attendants.

Woo-hoo! Is it over yet? Katie, we actually got through. Two swingin' honeys wrecking the joint. Thanks for being my link to the outside world, making sure I didn't get too insane (although I still think alligator-skin would've made a rad cover), keeping the whole thing together and the help you've given me in any way. Next year: Phat '97!

Sarah, you're awesome—thanks for being on my side. Next year, we're back in action!

Aaron, Seth, Chris (you guys are super), Brett (my dance partner), and Jon (nothing's the same without you)—the bus is keeping us together. You men really know how to show a girl a good time! To everyone else who make my life better: Lacey (babypup); Rob & BC, Johnny, Lux, Pee-wee, Pavement, WQSR—without whom I would never have made it through so many hours in the office, and anyone else who've helped me up or helped me out, thanks a bunch!

—Heather

Heather- I can't believe that we finally finished, I wasn't sure this day would come! Remember Freshman year, Come on, let's go to the yearbook meeting, it'll be fun. Wow, we get paid for this?!? Look at us now! You've been awesome at this, and at keeping me sane. Amy- Thanks for making the fun Saturday morning trip a little better, you're pretty cool. (I'm sure your school has a yearbook!) Everyone who helped me, put up with me, or listened to me, Thanks for being there. Justin, Denise, Jen, Robyn and Ali, you guys are the best friends a girl could ever hope for! Enjoy the book, we enjoyed making it!!

Just the Beginning, 1996 Pegasus

Volume 70 of the Washington College Pegasus, Just the Beginning was published and printed by Jostens, Inc. at State College, Pennsylvania. The theme and design was created and produced by the staff and Jostens representative, Rich Shrenker. The book measures 7 3/4 x 10 1/2 inches. The paperstock is 80 pound gloss. The endsheets are Sterling Silver Four Two Ooo, printed in Navy 540. The cover was designed by the editors and Rich Shrenker, in recreation of the 1931 Pegasus cover. It is Jostens Studio 3 embossed in Basin Street with applied Silver 329. The grain is Spanish 1257.

The type varies throughout the book. Palatino is the most frequently used font and is found on the Table of Contents, divider pages, sports stories and headlines, and for most copy in points between 9 and 42.

The names of clubs in the activities section are in Times 24pt outline. Brush Script is used for the Pegasus and for seniors' names in the Senior section.

Photographs in the book were taken by staff members except where noted. Film was developed for the most part by Eastern Shore Camera. Other photographs were developed through Superfresh or by Kurt Sommer in the darkroom. Photos in the senior section were provided by individual seniors. Some photos in the book were contributed by students at Washington College.

All copy in the book was written by staff members except where noted.

The staff would like to once again express appreciation to everyone who contributed their time and energy to bring this volume together.
